INDEPENDUTALIST WEB-FIRST

FLOCKFARE.COM

01 / SYSTEM

We're loud about cheap flights.

FlockFare is a tiny, hand-picked flight and hotel deal engine for people who already know where they want to go — and refuse to pay full price. We are not a travel search engine. We are not trying to be comfortable or corporate. We are a push notification that says "buy it in the next 90 minutes".

PRINCIPLE 01

Cheap first.

Design, copy, product — nothing matters more than the deal being ₹20k cheaper than Skyscanner.

PRINCIPLE 02

Bold, not busy.

One headline. One deal. One CTA. White space is free. Use it.

PRINCIPLE 03

Human, not AI-y.

No em-dashes-for-days. No "I've curated". Penny writes like your funniest friend.

02 / COLOUR

A palette you can spot from 40 metres away.

Four core colours do 95% of the work. Pair Ink + Lime on primary surfaces. Pair Ink + Violet for headings and emphasis. Reach for Coral only when there's a real price drop — if everything is urgent, nothing is.

Ink

#0B0B0F · R11 G11 B15

Primary text, all strokes & borders, reversed backgrounds.

Cream

#F6F3EC · R246 G243 B236

Primary surface. Warmer than pure white — softens the brutalism.

Violet

#6D28FF · R109 G40 B255

Brand accent, links, emphasised typography, interactive state.

Acid Lime

#D8FF3C · R216 G255 B60

Hero surfaces, primary CTA, "it's a deal" energy.

Signal Coral

#FF4E64 · R255 G78 B100

Only price drops, errors, urgency. Never for decoration.

Sun

#FFD166 · R255 G209 B102

Secondary accent, warnings, flash sales.

Bricolage Grotesque Black for display & headlines — quirky, thicc, personality-led. DM Sans for body — legible, calm. JetBrains Mono for system labels, airport codes, metadata. All three are free via Google Fonts.

One mark.
Six official variants.

Two chevrons = a flock in V-formation. The coral spark = a deal showing up in the sky. Never break them apart. Never rearrange them.

MASCOT · 05

Penny, the flock's eye in the sky.

A fluffy puffin with a rainbow beak, violet over-ear headphones, and a red carry-on covered in stickers. Permanently at an airport lounge. She watches fare dashboards so you can watch Netflix.

Cute	Adorable

Big head, sparkle eyes, rosy cheeks.

Tiny sneakers and a bucket-hat sticker.

Quirky
Headphones & a strong opinion on layovers.

Purposeful
She exists to find you ₹ off.

07 / VOICE

Say it like Penny would text it.

Direct. Specific. A little feral. Always punching the price, never the user. Numbers belong in the first sentence.

✓ WE WRITE LIKE THIS

"BOM → LHR just dropped to ₹21k return. That's 54% off. Grab in the next 90 mins before Air India catches on."

"Penny here. Nothing juicy for Goa tonight, but I've got one eye on Bangkok. Sleep tight."

"Heads up: this is a mistake fare. Airlines sometimes cancel them. Book the flight, then wait 24h before you book the hotel."

✗ WE DON'T WRITE LIKE THIS

"We are pleased to inform you that an exciting new opportunity has been curated by our team for your upcoming travel needs."

"Are you ready to embark on a journey of incredible savings? Don't miss out on this UNMISSABLE offer! "

"Kindly find below the best available fare for your kind reference. Do the needful to avail the same."

RULES

Lead with the route	Always "BOM → LHR", never "Mumbai to London". Three-letter codes are the vibe.
Price is the hero	Put ₹ in the first 5 words of every alert headline.
Ban corporate filler	No "kindly", no "avail", no "embark on a journey". If your aunt wouldn't text it, cut it.
One emoji, max	Only when it's doing real work. Never decorative. ✈ good, bad.

Now go fly cheap.

This book will evolve. When it does, the filename gets a new version number and the old one goes to an archive. Ship the brand by shipping the tokens — and everything downstream becomes self-correcting.
